Enna Aujla has been a pharmacist for 25 years and is the Director of Operations for a Specialty Pharmacy operating across Canada. Practicing in a profession that is experiencing rapid and continuous change, Enna coaches pharmacists to become resilient leaders and to remember the core purpose of their work is patient care, and to honour the trust that has been placed in them.

Enna is a Positive Psychology Practitioner, empowering her teams, colleagues, friends and family to use their core strengths to achieve new heights. She is passionate about helping companies build an organizational culture that encourages and fosters strong relationships and connections, celebrates successes, nurtures trust, and creates team cohesion through creating a sense of purpose and a safe space for vulnerability in order to build resilient teams that are innovate and creative.

As Enna continues to embark on her own journey of self discovery and self impact, she believes in the unshakeable hope that something better awaits each one of us, and that everyone already possesses the ability to choose positive outcomes to create personal and professional success.

Enna has been married for 23 years, to a now retired Naval Officer, and lives in Victoria, British Columbia. She has two beautiful daughters who remind her to learn, listen and laugh every day. She enjoys spending time with her family, reading and yoga.
